

Credit: Istockphoto.com

Coming Together for the Great Lakes

Wednesday, May 8, 2019

Bay Beach Wildlife Sanctuary, 1600 East Shore Drive, Green Bay, WI

6:30 – 8:30 p.m.

Join the International Joint Commission's Great Lakes Water Quality Board for a panel and audience discussion about long-term strategies to restore the vitality of Green Bay and Lake Michigan. Voice your opinions on challenges and issues in your local communities related to Great Lakes water quality.

Board members Jane Elder and Mark Mattson will moderate the panel, which includes:

Daniel Diederich
Owner, Diederich Farm and Green Bay Watershed Advocate

Julia Noordyk
Water Quality and Coastal Community Outreach
Specialist, University of Wisconsin Sea Grant
Institute

Dr. Kevin Fermanich
Professor of Geoscience/
Environmental Science,
University of Wisconsin-
Green Bay

Michael Troge
Project Manager in Conservation Planning,
Oneida Nation

Space is limited, so please register today to join the conversation!
For more information, contact Raj Bejankiwar at bejankiwarr@windsor.ijc.org